

Create a TIMELINE of your life

The history of your life is an important story to tell. A timeline is a fun way to show special times and dates throughout your life. Start at the bottom in the sun shape and write in your birthdate. As you travel up the yellow bar, draw lines out to either side and write whatever important thing happened in your life, along with the date. You might want to add things like when you got your first tooth, or when you started kindergarten. It could be things like when you got chicken pox or won a spelling bee at school. You could include dates of parties you went to, or vacations you took.

Tell YOUR story in your own unique way.
